

BOHO

Welcome to the Boho experience.

We hope that the information in this pack proves useful and answers most questions in regards to functions, entertainment and menu options.

Here at Boho we have a brilliant array of function areas for you to take advantage of. These include the Parisian Boudoir Lounge, our elegant restaurant and Cirque Bar and our sophisticated front 'Sideshow Bar'.

Boho can cater for any event, whether it be a private function, corporate launch or business meeting, we will work with you to ensure your event is how you envisage it.

We can create special and/or personalised menus for you and your guests or you can choose something different from our exquisite selection. Why not try our High Tea for your next corporate function, theme it up and give your guests a whole new experience.

Please don't hesitate to contact me to discuss your event in further detail. I look forward to hearing from you soon and planning your special occasion.

Kindest Regards,

Boho

The Legendary Origins of High Tea

Tea first became established in Britain because of the influence of a foreign princess, Catherine of Braganza, the queen of Charles II. A lover of tea since her childhood in Portugal, she brought tea-drinking to the English royal court, and set a trend for the beverage among the aristocracy of England in the seventeenth century. And while Catherine was attributed to introducing tea to the English population it was another who created the ritual known as high tea. According to legend, one of Queen Victoria's ladies-in-waiting, Anna Maria Stanhope, known as the Duchess of Bedford, is credited as the creator of High Tea. Because the noon meal had become skimpier, the Duchess suffered from "a sinking feeling" in the afternoon. At first the Duchess had her servants sneak her a pot of tea and a few breadstuffs. Adopting the European tea service format, she invited friends to join her for an additional afternoon meal in her boudoir at Belvoir Castle. The menu centered around small cakes, bread and butter sandwiches, assorted sweets and, of course, tea.....
